BIOGRAPHICAL

They had children whose names remain unknown at this writing.

He owned a pew in the First Presbyterian Church at Flemington in 1811. His name was listed in the General Merchandising Business in Flemington in 1830 (probably a son?). The History of Hunterdon and Somerset Counties, New Jersey, refers to a plan of Flemington in 1822, in a Figure 37, which refers to the residence of Joseph P. Chamberlin, and Figure 35 to the property of Joseph P. Chamberlin, at that time occupied by his father (not named).

He died intestate as his inventory was taken 12 July 1825. His widow Anne was appointed administrator of his estate and guardian of their minor children on 27 Oct 1827. John Chamberlin (his father?) and Elisha H. Johnston were also appointed co-administrators. Cornelius L. Sutphen also named in this record.
