Said to have had two children. One child was Joseph E. Bean, named as heir-at-law to his grandmother Chamberlin's estate in 1876; the other child of Mary probably died young.

BIOGRAPHICAL

His wives were sisters.

He was a shoemaker and resided in a house on Center street at Hanover, MA, which was later occupied by his son Myron F. Chamberlin, in 1910. After his death, his widow Mary was appointed guardian of the younger children. Amos Bates, of Hingham, signed her bond. After Mary's death, her son Myron F. Chamberlin, was appointed administrator of her estate on 25 Sep 1876. Her heirs-at-law were her sons Myron F. Chamberlin, of Hanover, Amos B. Chamberlin, of Quincy, and Joseph E. Bean, minor son of her daughter Mary, deceased wife of Joseph W. Bean, of Charlestown, MA.

His headstone in the Hanover cemetery says he died 12 Feb 1854, aged 52 years and 6 days, which would indicate that he was born 6 Feb instead of 6 Jan as given by the Hanover vital records.
