BIOGRAPHICAL

As a child, Israel Chamberlin lived in Otsego county, New York, near where Butternut Creek runs into the Unadilla river. In 1813, he was received on trial by the Genesee Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The conference register of 1813 reads: "Israel Chamberlayne, from the New Town circuit, extraordinary abilities, 18 years of age, deeply pious, remarkably good young man." That year he traveled with Joseph Kinkead on the Northumberland circuit; in 1814-15, with G.W. Densmore on the Broome circuit. In 1815, he was appointed to the St. Lawrence circuit; in 1816, a month in Montreal, and then in the wilderness of the Ottawa circuit in June 1816.

In 1816-17, he was on the Lycoming circuit in Pennsylvania. Though only in deacon's orders, he was placed "in charge of the circuit, which indicates the Bishop's estimate of his executive talents." In 1817-18, he was appointed to the Bellevue circuit in Lower Canada. He was then a "flowery young preacher and was much beloved." His brother Wyatt was also a Methodist circuit rider. A listener pronounced Israel the more eloquent of the brothers that day, but Wyatt, the more profound and able. They both had success.

In 1823, he was appointed a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Church at Baltimore, Md.

From 1813-38, he served a different circuit each year, except that he was supernumerary in 1822-23 and 1837-38. From 1839-42, he served the Buffalo district, and after 1844, was supernumerary (Methodist headquarters index in Boston).

In 1880, Edward L. Chamberlayne and wife Anna, Kate C. Fiske, Mary Hammond, and Louise C. Filkins (?), heirs-at-law of Israel Chamberlayne, conveyed to Owen Chamberlayne, of Genesee Co., lands in Ridgeway, Orleans Co., NY (Orleans County Deeds, Vol. 92, P. 220). This record indicates that his other children, not identified, either died young or left no heirs by 1880.

Not located in the 1810 and 1820 censuses. In 1830, he was living in Lodi, Seneca Co., NY, where he headed a family of 100001-100001.

In 1840, he was in Yates, Orleans Co., NY, where he headed a family of 3311001-01200010001.

This family was enumerated in the 1850 census as follows: Yates, Orleans Co., NY., #214/217, 5 Oct 1850, P. 292:

Chamberlin	Israel	54	M	W	M.E. Clergy	$ 2,,250	New York
Chamberlin	Joanna	50	F	W			New Jersey
Chamberlin	Wm *	24	M	W			New York
Chamberlin	Margarette	21	F	W			New Jersey
Chamberlin	Orrin	19	M	W	Tanner		New York
Chamberlin	Mary Ann	16	F	W			New York
Chamberlin	Catharine	8	F	W			New York
Chamberlin	Louisa	5	F	W			New York

* - Idiotic

In the New York State Census of 1865, they were living in Yates, Orleans Co., NY. His wife Joanna reported that she had had 12 children. Four were recorded in the town of Ridgeway in this census.
