BIOGRAPHICAL

He was educated in the Eclectic Institute (afterwards Hiram College); taught school and worked on a farm; entered the Union army as a private in the Ohio Second Regiment of Cavalry in July 1861; mustered out as a Captain and assistant quartermaster at Knoxville, TN, 8 Nov 1865, after an unusually hard and brilliant service.

He engaged in the iron and coal business in Knoxville; organized the Knoxville Iron Company in 1867, later one of the largest houses of its line in the south. He was also a leader in several other corporations in East Tennessee. In 1898, he was president of the Belt Railroad at Chattanooga, TN.

He was also identified with educational and charitable work, and was a member of the old Chamberlain Association of America.
