BIOGRAPHICAL

At the age of five years, he removed with his parents to Genesco, NY, where he grew to manhood, finishing his education at Temple Hill Academy in 1844. He then learned the printer's trade, which occupation he followed for nine years. During Taylor's presidential campaign in 1848, he edited and published the Democrat at Nunda, NY. He was living at home in 1850. In 1853, he located in Freeport, IL, and opened a hat and fur store in which he continued until 1892; twenty-seven years of that time being spent in the same storeroom.

He was a zealous worker in the cause of Freemasonry, being initiated, passed and raised in Excelsior Lodge, No. 97, A.F. and A.M., Freeport, IL, in 1856, and thereafter received many orders and passed through many rites in the Masonic order. From the time he was made a Mason he took great interest in Masonry and even in his Masonic life was a great deal of development of the standard work in Illinois.

The lack of jurisdictional information provided by the Wright-Chamberlin Genealogy (major source) makes it nearly impossible to lend any confidence in guessing where family events took place.

No information whatsoever on his second wife; cannot estimate date of marriage.
