He was chosen member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society; and received the degree of A.M. in 1893.

He went to Boston in 189—, and became a reporter on the Evening Transcript; in 1894, became assistant managing editor of the Journal; in 1897, returned to the Transcript, of which he was (1906) city editor. He was a member of several clubs, including the Papyrus and Dartmouth, was Boston correspondent of the New York Democratic Mirror and press representative of the Boston Museum, Hollis Street and Colonial Theaters. In 1907, he was living at home with his mother at Winchester, MA.

BIOGRAPHICAL

In 1860, they removed from Newbury to Guildhall (the Wright-Chamberlin Genealogy says this occurred in 1874-75). He was representative for Guildhall in 1866 and 1867; Clerk of Essex County Court in 1865; Senator for Essex County in 1874 and 1875; elected Judge of Probate in 1888, which position he held until his death. The Benton Genealogy calls her Adda.
