He joined the Consolidated Stock Exchange, and became a specialist and an authority upon the values of very old securities. He had a valuable collection of financial records running back to the beginning of the ancient Wall Street Market. He never married. When asked once about his celibacy, he remarked: "Having been born a batchelor, I think that Providence intended me to remain one." In 1907, he was a member of the Chamberlain Association of America, and resided at Summit, NJ.

BIOGRAPHICAL

He removed from Concord, NH, to New York City, where he established an importing business. Jacob Chamberlain was a prominent businessman of New York City, a merchant of foresight, and active in reforming methods, especially in Customs House matters. Jacob Chamberlain & Co., occupied offices and warehouses at 9 South William St., and 61 Stone St., the spot later occupied by The Reform Club, organized to promote honest, efficient and economical government.

In 1846, he removed to Jersey City, NJ.

His wife Mary, was descended from Major Robert Warner of Middletown, CT, a Revolutionary War soldier and one of the original members of the Society of Cincinnati.

This family was enumerated in the 1850 census as follows: Jersey City, Hudson Co., NJ, #342/573, 22 Aug 1850, P. 342:
