BIOGRAPHICAL

His first wife, Orissa Barlow, was heir to the estate of Ebenezer Barlow, of Fairfield, Franklin Co., VT. He began the practice of medicine about 1820, in Fairfield, VT. About 1825, he moved to Burlington, where he was a successful and highly skilled physician and surgeon. He practiced medicine until 1840, when he retired. His home was located on Shelburn and South Streets in Burlington.

He does not seem to be identified in the 1820 or 1830 censuses. In 1840, he is listed at Burlington, VT, heading a family of 0000001-001101.

This family was enumerated in the 1850 census as follows: Burlington, Chittenden Co., VT, #739/943, 27 Aug 1850, P. 333:

Chamberlain	Thomas	58	M	W	Physician	$ 10,000	VT
Chamberlain	Nancy	42	F	W			VT
Chamberlain	Cornelia	20	F	W			VT

The marriages of both his daughters were recorded in the parish records of St. Paul's Church. His second wife, Nancy, was a lady of great excellence and was held in high esteem. She died of Typhoid fever, only two months before he died of the same cause.

In his will dated 22 Oct 1854, he provided for a tombstone for his wife Nancy H. Chamberlain, and mentioned his daughters Orissa and Cornelia, and granddaughters Juliet W. Keller, and Helen Leslie Underwood. He nominated his son-in-law, Levi Underwood, of Burlington, as the Executor.
